Dear Friends,

The department of Islamic Studies, University of Kerala is organizing a three-day National Seminar on Understanding Right Radicalism among the Faith Communities in Kerala on 28th February, 1-2 March 2017.

Communalism is perversion of religion from a moral order to temporal arrangement of contemporary convenience, from a faith into a realm of strategy of living into tactics of Politics. It is a tactics to use the religious and cultural differences to mobilize narrow political ends.

Kerala is noted for its uniqueness in religious diversity and communal harmony. Unfortunately, recent history of the state is marred by a revival of caste loyalties, communal politics and even extremist and sectarian tendencies.

The active participation of teachers, academicians, research scholars and students interested in the theme is cordially solicited.
